FROM RUSHMORE TO YELLOWSTONE

Through the Heart of Campbell County

Like the famous profiles that spread across the face of Mount Rushmore, iconic sights extend across the region surrounding Campbell County, Wyoming. Mount Rushmore to the east, of course, but also Wind Cave National Park and Devils Tower National Monument. To the west, there's Yellowstone National Park. Now all you need is a great little place in the heart of them all, to offer you a warm welcome, a cozy room, and a hot meal. That's just what you'll find in Campbell County, where history comes alive and the bison still roam. Best of all, you'll never be more than a day's drive to make memories you'll cherish for a lifetime. So after you visit the icons, settle in with us. You deserve a home on the range, too.

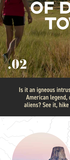
All Roads Lead to Awesome

MOUNT RUSHMORE & MORE!

.01

In this region the sculptures are big and the landscape is bigger. After you pay homage to the presidents, the fun is just beginning.



Mount Rushmore National Memorial

Washington, Jefferson, Roosevelt, Lincoln. And you!

Custer State Park

Bison, a wildlife loop, and the breathtaking Needles Parkway.

Wind Cave National Park

A captivating cave, of course. But have we mentioned the bison?

Crazy Horse Memorial

Another monumental sculpture rising—in tribute to Native Americans.

IN THE SHADOW OF DEVILS TOWER

.02

Is it an igneous intrusion, the bear lodge of Native Americans lore, or a landing pad for space aliens? See it, hike it, and decide for yourself!

Devils Tower National Monument

There's nothing like that first awesome glimpse of the soaring rock monolith.

Tower Trail

Circumnavigate the Tower on foot and watch the rock-climbers on high.

Close Encounters of the Tower Kind

Stream Spielberg's alien masterpiece, hike vivid locations where he filmed it.

Devils Tower Gulch Restaurant

Less than a mile from the monument. Pop out for a bison burger and a beer.

STAY RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE OF IT ALL

In the midst of all this magnificence, you'll need a place to rest your head and fill your belly. Gillette is centrally located amidst splendor, and it's a foodie destination to boot.

A HOME WHERE THE BISON ROAM

.03

Durham Bison Ranch

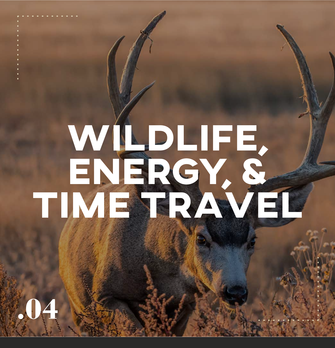
They were hunted to the brink of extinction. Now bison are on the rebound because of heritage herds like this one.

Meet the Bison

Stop by the Gillette Visitor Center for tour tickets. See 3,000 bison on the hoof!

Eat the Bison

Sample the original grass-fed steak. Low in fat, high in flavor and protein.



WILDLIFE, ENERGY, & TIME TRAVEL

.04

Experience it all in the wild lands and historic sites of Campbell County.

Wildlife Loop Tours (East, West)

The Gillette Visitor Center provides maps to the wonders of wildlife.

Rockpile Museum

The coal-fired legacy of the Energy Capital of the U.S.A.

Historic Downtown Walking Tour

Gillette was founded just two years after Wyoming statehood. Stroll through time!

The Railyard Restaurant

A hotel opened on this spot in 1902. Feast on historically good eats!

YELLOWSTONE NATIONAL PLAYGROUND

.05

Yellowstone National Park

It was the first national park, with good reason: Famous geysers, abundant wildlife, and that other Grand Canyon, in a must-see mix.

Trails!

Water features that are worth the walk!

Wildlife!

Yes, there are bison. Plus grizzly bears, wolves, and raptors too!

Horseback Tours!

See the park just the way Teddy Roosevelt did, in 1903!
